05/24/15, MRI report of the left knee, TTTT Diagnostic Imaging, P.C., DBA XRRR Imaging, NYC, JJJJ, M.D., M.B.A, F.A.C.R. Impression: Significant edema in the lateral tibial plateau suggestive of contusion versus nondisplaced fracture. This would be somewhat atypical for degenerative-type edema especially since this is large patient and this could be related to chronic repetitive micro-trauma. Posterior horn medial meniscus tear and moderate to severe chondromalacia and small joint effusion.

05/24/15, MRI report of the right knee, TTTT Diagnostic Imaging, P.C., DBA XRRR Imaging, NYC, JJJJ, M.D., M.B.A, F.A.C.R. Impression: 1. 4 mm deep posterior lateral femoral condylar irregularity, probably degenerative change, cannot entirely exclude a small osteochondral defect. 2. Moderate to severe chondromalacia and small joint effusion.
